The main objective of this digital portfolio was to teach English using technology and to make the students familiar with digital portfolios and online submissions which they might need in future. As this task is an individual activity, I made it an opportunity to get to know the social and family background of the students through the task I of the activity which requires them to write about themselves. Another major aim was to let the students be creative and innovative in their portfolios where they were given the freedom to use any decorative pictures, or videos to support their e-portfolio.

Life in the past was both different and difficult

Life in the past was both different and difficult. First reason for that is technology, because they had not many machineries, so oftenly people using their hand for everything they did. They did not have sewing machines like we have, therefore they sewed by hand using only a needle and a ball of yarn. They did not have washing machines and they washed their clothes by using their hands. as well as they did not have gas cookers or electric ovens, so they cooked over fire. however, no day's electricity is basic requirements of our life, and some machines are also, but at past they didn't need it and we can't imagine correctly how much their life was difficult and different. They had not any electronic devices, so they hadn't any communication devices also, now days we can't do many things without internet, even they didn't have telephones, so internet as a fairy tale at that time. but they used various method for communication with each other. In between this time, they hadn't motor car or anything like modern vehicles, however they travelled by using some animals. It was not fast enough but they were able to do much of amazing things with it. In the past they had not only used land vehicles they also used water vehicles like ships boats etc. As other all thing those was not good than present ships or boats. now a day we are using aircraft also, at the past they only heard such things in their bedtime story and dreams only. However, I think, maybe they were living happily more than us.

My Journal

Topic : life of the writer

Date : 28th December 2021

I think one day she could be a famous writer. Because she doesn't give up writing career easily. Her No .1 entry it wrote on September 24th ,she mentioned she had a some work of a gentleman, he wanted to get it write a book by her . So that I believe, she accepted it and complete it very well, because she was very exciting by that request. But I think, that gentleman is not professional writer or something doing relative thing to writing, because he wanted some help only. and her No .2 entry nothing mentioned about early gentlemen. So that I believe he wanted to write one book only. And according to her second entry she hadn't permeant writing job still. But we can find some clues that she will be a good writer in the future. Because she was looking for some writing relative jobs. And her second entry she wrote on 15th December, and she mentioned about Christmas and she wanted some extra money for that. So that I thinking she had some problem about money. It is not wonder because she hadn't prementa job at yet. And her No .03 entry her wrote on December 30th after 5 days Christmas. Unfortunately, her could not find any job, and her last Christmas was not very well, and she didn't anything special. But she was not give up he dream .so She applied to some article writing. She was not full satisfied about that job, But at that moment she hadn't other options. And I think she certainly got that job. So as a summery I think life of the writer is not easily. only requirement of that career is not language knowledge, also that writer want some luck.

Topic : Peter and Jessica at lake

Date : 16th November 2021

On a beautiful summery day Jessica and peter went to lake with their friends to enjoy their free time. They sat on grass and talking while sunbathing. Few times after Jessica and peter

So that, they harry up and, at the island bottom of their canoe hit some rocks and it began sink in water. Fortunately, that moment they are located at the island. So that peter jumped out the island and tied the canoe to a tree. After that they hide under the tree waited till the rain stop. Finally, it stopped but they could use canoe anymore, they try to call their friends, but unfortunately their phone did not work properly.so peter decided to swim to shore and bring another canoe for Jessica. And he began and could swim to the shore quickly and he went to boat rental. Then he found out tourists group rental all boats and canoes in there. Luckily, boat owner had a phone number one of tourist. He called for him and ask for help. The tourist promised to help Jessica. And that time Jessica was waiting in the island. She saw some men group coming to island. Initially her frightened, but after they called her name and lost her fear. Finally, she could be able to came to shore safely.

My views on Online Learning

The online learning is not new thing to world already, because technology development was starting long time ago and this online learning is a result of it. This learning method also named eLearning because it most depend on the electronics. Before current pandemic situation our country does not using this learning method widely, because this method required more technological things more than traditional physical learnings. But at that moment our country has not another good options and they move to online learning among more difficulties. Everything has both good as well as bad, that rule comment online learning also.

First, I like to talk about advantages of this method. First thing is we can learn anywhere anytime depend upon our favor. We can learn at our home without sperate our families. Another one is, we can list and watch our lecture again and again till we understand the lesson. likewise, we can talk lot of advantages of online learning. And as mentioned about we have some disadvantages of this method also; main thing is this required more technology and at that part unfortunately some students could not be able to buy and have not enough money for that. Also, this learning method depend upon internet connection quality, so we all know our country still developing country and some areas have not those facilities satisfactory

So that according to my knowledge. This online learning is good, but we can't learn ever thing using only it, because learning is not only subjective knowledge, but it also includes how we work with society. At that part is weakest part of this learning method, and finally I like to tell, combine this online and physical learning we can learn more efficiently.

THANK YOU!
